Dear Dave,

Thanks for the book, for thinking of it and for the kind note. I look forward to reading it.

The advance publicity indicates it will be a success. Hope so.

You say we probably disagree about the King assassination. That indicates that despite your debunking on other matters and aspects, you accept the official mythology uncritically.

Take an old man's advice, for you are young and might soon regret careless comment: If you are asked about the King assassination, evade by saying what is the truth, that you've not made a study of it.

Of the FBI's account of the assassination, that King was killed and by a single bullet is all that is factual, true and even relevant. Bleive me. I've read every word. In time they even boasted of never investigating the crime at all.

And that was true!

Good luck!
